

What is Pathway?

Designed to give students the confidence and skills needed to succeed in college, Pathway is a low-cost educational opportunity that combines online courses with local gatherings. Students earn college credit that is eligible for transfer to BYU-Idaho and other universities. The program takes three semesters, or one year, to complete and can lead to professional certificates and degrees.

Watch the video below to learn more about Pathway.

To watch more videos or learn more about about Pathway, visit our media page, or click on one of the social media links at the bottom of the page.

S STANDARD >

For students who are proficient in English, the standard version combines BYU-Idaho online academic courses with either institute or BYU-Idaho religion courses. Students take one academic class and one religion class each of the three semesters.

L L VERSION >

For students who have low to intermediate English proficiency, the L version includes academic courses that incorporate English-language instruction as a main component of the coursework. Students meet weekly with a native English speaker throughout the program to improve their English skills. All parts of the program are facilitated entirely in English.

Standard Version

For students who are fully proficient in English.

HOW PATHWAY WORKS

Online Academic Courses

During each of the three semesters, students take one online academic class from BYU-Idaho as well as one religion class. The three academic classes are designed to give students the confidence and skills needed to succeed in college and include: Pathway Life Skills (GS 120), Basic Writing (ENG 106), Personal Finance (Math 100G)

PATHWAY COURSE SEQUENCE
1ST SEMESTER	Pathway Life Skills (GS 120)
2ND SEMESTER	Basic Writing (ENG 106) or Personal Finance (Math 100G) (+1 religion course)
3RD SEMESTER	Basic Writing (ENG 106) or Personal Finance (Math 100G) (+1 religion course)

Religion Courses

During each of the three semesters, students take one of the following religion classes:

- Book of Mormon, Part 1
- Book of Mormon, Part 2
- Teachings of the Living Prophets – FDREL 333

All Pathway students in the standard version take the same same academic and religion courses, but the schedule and method vary by age group.

Weekly Gathering

The program includes a 1-hour gathering each week at a local institute facility or church meetinghouse with other Pathway students and a service missionary couple.

The gathering provides social, emotional, and academic support and is held every Thursday evening during the three BYU-Idaho academic semesters.

BYU-Idaho Three -Semester Schedule	 FALL SEMESTER September - December
	 WINTER SEMESTER January - April
	 SPRING SEMESTER April - July

Age Groups

Pathway students are divided into group types: Age 18-30, Age 31+, and Age 18+. (The Age 18+ group is no longer available in the United States except for a few existing sites. Most international sites continue to approve and operate Age 18+ groups.)

ACADEMIC COURSES

All groups complete their Pathway academic courses online and gather weekly at a local institute facility or church meetinghouse to discuss the lesson material, collaborate on assignments, and teach one another.

RELIGION COURSES

Students in the Age 18-30 and Age 18+ groups groups complete their Book of Mormon courses through their local institute program at no charge, and the credits are then eligible for transfer to BYU-Idaho.

Students in the Age 31+ group complete their Book of Mormon courses online through BYU-Idaho.

All groups complete the FDREL 333, “Teachings of the Living Prophets,” course online through BYU-Idaho.

DEGREE OPTIONS

Successfully completing Pathway opens doors to opportunity, which include participating in the BYU-Idaho Online Degree Program, attending BYU-Idaho as an on-campus student, or enrolling in a local college or university.

Online Degree Program

At the end of Pathway, students may advance into BYU-Idaho's Online Degree Program. To be eligible for the Online Degree Program, students must earn a minimum "B" average (3.0 GPA) during Pathway and get an ecclesiastical endorsement from their bishop.

Students will continue to take courses online at the same low Pathway tuition rate and work toward some or all of the following options:

- Professional Certificates (30 credits)
- Associate Degree (60 credits)
- Bachelor's Degree (120 credits)

Learn more about the BYU-Idaho Online Degree Program.

Campus

Students who complete Pathway and wish to attend BYU-Idaho on campus in Rexburg must apply at besmart.com and pay the regular campus tuition. If the student completed Pathway with at least a 3.0 GPA, the high school diploma and standardized test score (ACT/SAT) requirement will be waived as part of the application process.

Other Universities

Completion of Pathway will give students the confidence and skills needed to succeed in any college. Students are encouraged to attend their local colleges and universities at the completion of Pathway if their educational and career goals are better met there. FAQ

FAQ's

Frequently Asked Questions

What is Pathway?

Designed to give students the confidence and skills needed to succeed in college, Pathway is a low-cost educational opportunity that combines online courses with local gatherings. The program takes three semesters, or one year, to complete and can lead to professional certificates and degrees.

Can people who are not members of the Church apply?

No. At this time, only members of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints can participate in Pathway.

How long does it take to complete Pathway?

Pathway takes three semesters (one year) to complete.

Can I take more than the required 5 credits per semester?

Not normally. You will be taking the same classes as the other students in your gathering. However, if you wish to explore your options for additional classes, contact the Pathway Advising office at pathwayadvising@byui.edu.

Can I miss a gathering?

Attendance is 30% of the grade in Pathway so it is up to each student to determine based on their needs.

Am I required to do Pathway if I already have an associate degree, or can I directly start the online degree I am interested in?

In order to be eligible to begin the Online Degree Program, you must have at least 15 credits from a CES school (BYU, BYU-I, BYU-H, LDSBC). If your associate degree is from one of the Church schools, you can by-pass Pathway. However, if you don't meet the requirement of 15 CES credits, you will need to complete Pathway before you will be eligible to apply for the Online Degree Program.

I have previous college credit; will it transfer to Pathway?

All students are required to complete the specified courses during Pathway regardless of their previous college experience or coursework. Previous course credit cannot be applied to these courses, but may count as transfer credit toward an eventual BYU-Idaho degree. For additional questions or information, contact Pathway Advising at (208) 496-9898.

If I have already taken a Book of Mormon course at an institute of religion, am I still required to take the Book of Mormon course with Pathway?

Unless you have taken a Book of Mormon course through one of the CES schools or taken the Book of Mormon at an institute for credit, you will need to take it as part of Pathway. For more details, contact the Pathway Advising office at pathwayadvising@byui.edu.

Will tuition remain at $65 a credit once I complete Pathway and start the Online Degree Program?

Students who complete Pathway and continue on to the BYU-Idaho Online Degree Program will continue to pay the low Pathway tuition rate, whatever it is at the time. Tuition has the potential to increase slightly each year. (The only exception is the online RN to BSN Program. The tuition will not be $65 per credit for this program.)

Will tuition remain the same if I enter the RN to BSN program?

No. Tuition will cost the same as it does for others in that program. Please go to the RN to BSN website for tuition cost information.

Do I have to start over if I cannot attend a semester of Pathway?

If you miss a semester of Pathway, you must reapply to the program. However, after reapplying you will not have to retake the semester(s) that you have previously completed. Once you are accepted back into Pathway, you will have to wait for the semester that your Pathway site is offering the courses that you have not taken yet or transfer to another Pathway location.

Are there tutors who can help me if I have trouble with my homework?

Yes, tutoring is free at BYU-Idaho. You can find an online tutor through the on campus tutoring center at <http://www.byui.edu/academic-support-centers/tutoring-center/online-tutoring>.

Can I get an identification card from BYU-Idaho?

No. Campus and Online Degree students enrolled in classes at BYU-Idaho can receive an identification card, also known as an I-Card. Unfortunately; Pathway students are not eligible for I-Cards. Online students can receive their I-Cards by filling out an application, which can be found at <http://www.byui.edu/financial-services/my-account/i-card/online-student-i-card-application-form>.

How can I obtain enrollment verification?

You can obtain enrollment verification through the National Student Clearing House at: www.byui.edu/verification.

Is financial aid available to Pathway students?

Pathway students are not eligible for Federal Financial Aid or BYU-Idaho scholarships. However, once a student becomes a degree seeking student, they are then eligible for Federal Financial Aid as long as they meet the requirements, which can be found at the Financial Aid website, <http://www.byui.edu/financial-aid>.

Who are the missionaries at my Pathway site?

You can find Pathway sites and missionary contact information at: \(New Link\)

How long is a semester?

Each semester is 14 weeks long. Fall semesters start in September and go until the middle of December, winter semesters start in January and go until the middle of April, and spring semesters start at the end of April and go until the end of July.

What happens if I fail a class?

If you fail a course, you will need to retake it. As a Pathway student, you cannot begin the Online Degree Program unless you have passed every course and have at least a 3.0 cumulative GPA. However, Pathway students can apply to campus with less than a 3.0 GPA if all application requirements (ACT, transcripts, essays, etc.) are met. If they meet the 3.0 GPA, these requirements are waived. If you have completed Pathway with no failing grades, but do not meet the 3.0 cumulative GPA requirement, you will need to retake your courses with the lowest grades to qualify for the Online Degree Program.

Can high school students enroll in Pathway?

No. You must be at least institute age (18 years old.)

Can students audit online courses?

No. If a student is found to be auditing an online course, Student Records & Registration will remove the student from the course.

HOW PATHWAY WORKS

Online Academic Courses

During each of the three semesters, students take one online academic class from BYU-Idaho. The three academic classes are designed to give students the confidence and skills needed to succeed in college and include: Pathway English and Life Skills (GS 120L), English Language and Personal Finance (Math 100L), English Language and Basic Writing (ENG 106L).

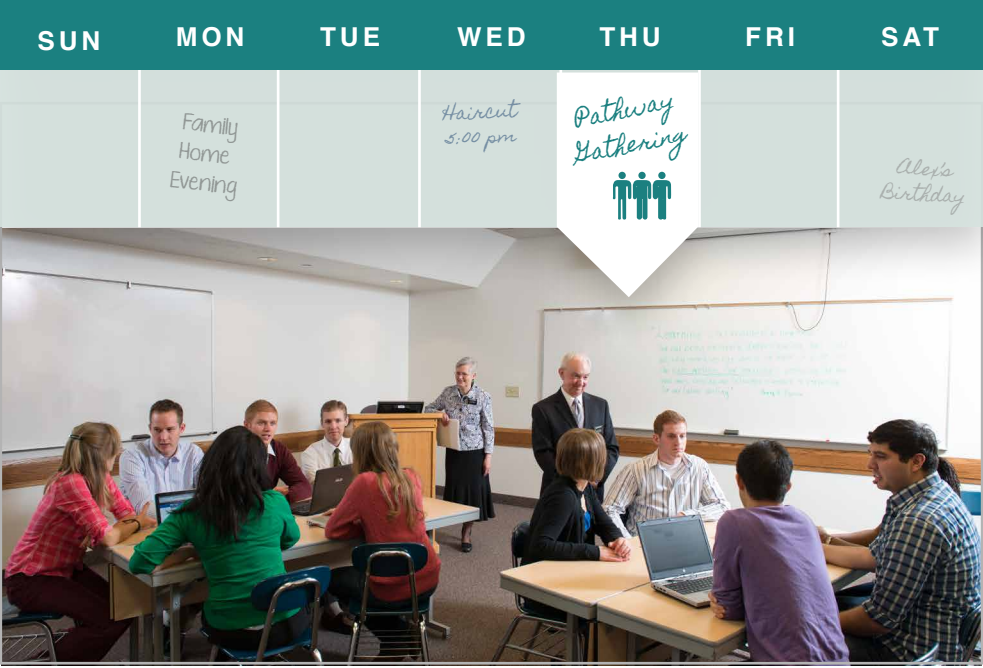

PATHWAY COURSE SEQUENCE
1ST SEMESTER	Pathway english & Life Skills (GS 120L)
2ND SEMESTER	English language and Basic Writing (ENG 106L)
	or English language and Personal Finance (Math 100L) (+1 religion course)
3RD SEMESTER	English language and Basic Writing (ENG 106L)
	or English language and Personal Finance (Math 100L) (+1 religion course)

Religion Courses

Because of the advantages for English-learning Church members, L-version students are strongly encouraged to enroll in an institute class of their choice during the three semesters of Pathway.

Weekly Gathering

The program includes a 90-minute gathering each week at a local institute facility or church meetinghouse with other Pathway students and a service missionary couple.

The gathering provides social, emotional, and academic support and is held every Thursday evening during the three BYU-Idaho academic semesters.
